TALK ABOUT TIME!

So many of you have become new customers that it would not be amiss to once again review the meaning of our title, "Talk About Time." It all came about years ago when, my now big boy and eldest son, was a little tot and used to crawl up on my lap after dinner and say, "Daddy, it is Talk About Time." Then and there we reviewed all the events of the day that rambled about in his little head.

Of course, I can't invite all of you to crawl up in my lap after dinner, but this little message with each catalogue is our way of creating a feeling of better understanding between you, our customers and those of us at home.

Present plans call for five separate catalogues or mail pieces to you from us during 1959, to let you know of the stock we have grown for your enjoyment. This is the first of these five.

In this catalogue, we have combined all the stock that we feel should interest those persons that concentrate on growing Cattleyas. All of the plants listed herein are most compatible with an environment that is suitable to good Cattleya culture. If you are tired of seeing the same old flowers in your collection, add some of these really new and exciting combinations to your collection. They will give you a new outlook and make all of your plants appear more welcome. Life gets dull when you don't have new friends.

It has been a great pleasure to serve all of you all over the world. As of this year, 1959, our plants are finding new homes in every corner of the world. They have been bred with care and understanding in the hopes that they may bring pleasure and solace to all at a time when man finds himself all too often flying into space with his feet off the ground. We need an anchorage and growing orchids as a hobby is an excellent way to tie down your pent up emotions.

Our policy has not changed. We stand behind everything 100%. We are not perfect—we are human. If we make a mistake, tell us. We want to hear about it. It is only by this method that we can improve our service to you.

All of our growers, our staff, and myself take this opportunity to convey to you our very best wishes for 1959. We will look forward to hearing from you and the opportunity to package up some of our plants that we hope you will consider on arrival as a "bundle of joy."

Aloha,

WM. KIRCH

CATTLEYA AND ALLIED GENERA

Many new advancements have been made in the breeding of this large section of orchids. Particularly is this true of the new small types such as Dia-Cattleya, Epi-Cattleya, Cattleytonia, etc. We are this year placing all of these plants in one large group with subdivisions for each section. Culture is the same for all groups.

CULTURE:

These are among the easiest of all orchid plants for the amateur to grow. If you are just starting, Cattleyas will give you what you want. They can be quite successfully grown in many locations without a glass house.

They should be grown in a temperature range of not less than 55° F., at night with a daily range not to exceed 30° F., above the current night temperature. Thus, if your night temperature was maintained at 55° F., the maximum rise during the following day should not exceed 85° F.

Potting can be done in Osmunda Fibre, Hawaiian Tree-Fern, or any of the new Bark composts. We highly recommend the latter, due to ease of use and handling thereafter.

Cattleyas should be watered as often as they get dry. Location, type of potting media, season, state of growth of the plant, and light, all play an important part in the speed with which a plant will dry out. There is no hard or fast rule—Observe your plant and when it is dry give it a good soaking. Then do not water again until dry.

Cattleyas will benefit by the use fertilizers. Again, several factors are important as to the use of fertilizer. Light, rate of growth of the plant, season all are important. Remember plants are like humans; when active they eat more, when dormant less. Use your good common sense as a guide. Any complete liquid fertilizer recommended for orchids is suitable.

If you have a specific problem, write to us. We will be happy to try and solve it for you.

LARGE FLOWERED CATTLEYA TYPE HYBRIDS

This group is the large flower that is so highly prized for display and cut flower purposes. In it you will find combinations involving the genera: Cattleya, Laelia, Brassovola, and Sophronitis. The crosses we offer are bred to give the maximum in quality.

ONCIDIUM ALLIANCE

This section is probably the one which has expanded more rapidly than any other in our nurseries in the past few years. Purpose of breeding has been to create a range of material that would allow growers that do not have air conditioned houses and those in tropical countries, to grow orchids similar to the cool-growing Odontoglossum hybrids.

Many surprises have resulted in this breeding. The Miltonias of the warm growing type make excellent cut flowers whereas the cool types will not stand up when cut. The miniature *Oncidium*s are the finest little pot plants we have ever seen. Intergeneric hybrids produce all sorts of wonderful surprises both as to shape and colors. Anyone that can grow Cattleyas can grow these plants and while they are basic spray Orchids, we are including them in our Cattleya catalogue for this reason. We will group them in sections to allow you to better understand their characteristics.

CULTURE:

These plants are light lovers and will stand considerably more light than most orchids. Grow toward the dry side as to water. Fertilize frequently when in growth. Do not fertilize when dormant.
